

Healthy Money, Healthy You

Understand how financial difficulties can affect people's health, increase awareness of different types of credit and financial services.

(½ day training)

Training Outcomes

Understand how financial difficulties can affect people's health.

Identify Strategies and skills to engage with people and identify what attitudes might hinder engagement.

Increase knowledge of financial capability.

Increase awareness of different types of credit and financial services.

Increase knowledge of importance of signposting to appropriate support agencies and how to refer.

Developed and delivered by:

Washington